Science Month

Children’s understanding of the world is influenced by their daily experiences, as well as by direct encounters with information from books, parents, teachers and other children. Knowing what children think is important for understanding how concept formation in science can take place. Learning Science is important for increasing children’s thinking capacity and ability to navigate around the world in which they live.

In the early years, children tend to think about only a few characteristics of materials, such as colour and hardness. They rely on their senses to explore and make judgments about materials. As their experiences grow, they begin to demonstrate an awareness of a range of other scientific concepts. This month’s Kidz Club science theme is the “Deep Blue” and the children will be involved through our curriculum in a variety of age-appropriate activities to enhance their understanding and science awareness. Please follow Storypark for posts and further evidence.

Centre Photos

Several parents have been enquiring about Centre Photos. They were scheduled, for June, but due to COVID-19, this was cancelled. Jade Kearns Photography was able to reschedule with us and, the dates are the 11th & 12th November, is the only time she had available. I hope this goes to plan. I know that it is several months away, but I wanted to clarify parent’s interest in this matter.

NATIONAL ABORIGINAL & TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER CHILDREN'S DAY – AUGUST 4

Children's Day is a time for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families to celebrate the strengths and culture of their children. The day is an opportunity for all Australians to show their support for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children, as well as learn about the crucial impact that culture, family and community play in the life of every child. Our theme Elders of Tomorrow highlights the uniqueness and importance of the knowledge and wisdom of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, starting in childhood. Find our more here.

KEEP AUSTRALIA BEAUTIFUL WEEK – AUGUST 17 - 23
Keep Australia Beautiful Week is held late August each year, to raise awareness about the simple things we can all do in our daily lives to reduce our impact on the environment and encourage action. Doing your part is simple, find our more here.

Book reviews

Beautiful picture books that promote strength, courage and unity.

THE BUG GIRL

Sophia Spencer and Margaret McNamara | AGE 4 - 8

Real-life 7-year-old Sophia Spencer was bullied for loving bugs until hundreds of women scientists rallied around her.

Now Sophie tells her inspiring story in this picture book that celebrates women in science, bugs of all kinds, and the importance of staying true to yourself.

IN A JAR

Deborah Marcano | AGE 3 - 7

Llewellyn, a little rabbit, is a collector. He gathers things in jars--ordinary things like buttercups, feathers, and heart-shaped stones.

Then he meets another rabbit, Evelyn, and together they begin to collect extraordinary things--like rainbows, the sound of the ocean, and the wind just before snow falls. And, best of all, when they hold the jars and peer inside, they remember all the wonderful things they've seen and done. But one day, Evelyn has sad news: Her family is moving away. How can the two friends continue their magical collection—and their special friendship—from afar?

YOU MATTER

Christian Robinson | AGE 4 - 7

this sensitive and impactful picture book about seeing the world from different points of view. In this full, bright, and beautiful picture book, many different perspectives around the world are deftly and empathetically explored—from a pair of bird-watchers to the pigeons they're feeding. Young readers will be drawn into the luminous illustrations inviting them to engage with the world in a new way and see how everyone is connected, and that everyone matters.

FOCUS: The incredibly simple secret to making mornings in your house more harmonious

I am definitely a crabby Mum first thing in the morning! I don't want to be talked to. I don't want to talk back. I don't want to make breakfast; I don't want to hear the cartoons. I just want to be left alone until I'm ready.

This is not because I've woken up on the wrong side of the bed. It's because I have a brain, and brains are computers and they need to load before they can work. When we turn on our computer, we don't expect that we can immediately get stuck into that spreadsheet or Google search, we know it needs time to load. Our brain is no different! It needs to become active. It needs to get ready before we can do all the things.

But with our modern-day, rushed and urgent lifestyle, we make very little time or space first thing in the morning to prime our brain before we need to start using it.

And if we, as adults, experience this crabby, anxious morning feeling just imagine how much harder it must be for a child, especially a young child who doesn't yet have the emotional regulation skills that we as adults generally do. And yet they're expected to get up, get dressed, sit at the table, have their breakfast, do their teeth, remember their library book, pack their lunch and all the other morning jobs. Imagine the crabbiness, the anxiety that they must experience.

All of these morning tasks require what we call 'executive functioning' and the brain needs to be active before it can make these things happen.

If our kids haven't had sufficient time in the morning to play, to do some stretching, to move, to have some music, use their imaginations, a little bit of creative time or fresh air — then their brain is not necessarily going to be primed in the way they need it to be so that they can function easily.

But fear not! Because it is super simple to prime our brains, and one of the best ways to do this is with music.

Research tells us that when we experience music, more of our brain activates than it does when we experience any other thing. And this can happen from listening to music, making music, or even just thinking about it.

So, simply listening to music in the mornings as part of your daily routine will help activate your brain and your child's brain so that everybody can work together more harmoniously in the mornings. I recommend choosing songs that your children love, make a playlist, listen to your favourite CD. You could opt for an early morning disco party — just turn on the music and all have a quick dance around the lounge room together.

A really important element of music is its physicality. Movement, dancing, stretching. This, in conjunction with rhythm and melody, absolutely does wonders for getting the brain active and ready to work!

These strategies are super simple, they don't take a lot of time and you don't need to be musical to be able to achieve them.

So if you or your children are finding that you're crabby in the morning, anxious, worked up, not functioning at your best, not able to get the jobs done on time then these simple, music based exercises are a must — and a fun one at that — to get you walking out the door harmoniously and calmly.

SOUND SPOTTERS

The ability to listen closely is a key ingredient of phonemic awareness. This is the part of instruction that is skipped most often, because we assume that young children know how to listen. They may not!

After a busy morning or afternoon lie quietly on the floor with your children. It's not nap time, but it's a great time to unwind, which is important for young children. As you lie there quietly for five to ten minutes, listen for sounds. Become "sound spotters". Don't use your eyes — use your ears. There are always sounds and weird noises you can hear in your home or outside: an air conditioner, doors closing, stomachs growling. The possibilities are endless! Your part is to talk about the sounds you and your children hear. Use a little enthusiasm and exaggeration to get the kids interested in this activity. The key phrase is, "Who can spot a sound with their ears?"

WHAT'S IN THEIR POCKETS?

Looking into a child's pocket opens a magical window into their daily experience. Small children in six countries emptied the contents of their pockets and were asked about their haul. From Argentina to the Ukraine, the results were as cute and baffling as you might expect.

The six families chosen to be featured in the story all agree that it has been an adventure to discover what their kiddos are carrying around as treasures.

The biggest similarity among the international kids was candy. Half of them said it was their favourite thing to keep in their pocket. When asked, 'If you could fit anything in your pocket, what would it be?', William, from the USA, doubled down on his sweet tooth, saying: "Five thousand pieces of candy!" On one memorable day, William's pockets contained Skittles with all the colours licked off. He told his parents the colourless Skittles were candies for Harry Potter. Nadya from the Ukraine chose 'slime' as the number one thing she wished she could carry in her pocket. The reason? Because "mother forbids it." The fun continued when parents were asked the question: "What's the weirdest thing you found in their pockets?" The mother of Bilal, a five-year-old from India, answered with four words. "My husband's credit card." Wyatt's parent in the U.K admitted, "I was both incredibly confused and relieved when I found my missing house keys there once." She explained, "Not all of my house keys, just the keys that were attached to a BB-8 key ring that he'd decided was now his."

What treasures have you found in your child's pockets?

COVID-19

With recent spikes of coronavirus- COVID-19 in local communities, our service continues to implement significant health and safety measures to ensure the safety and wellbeing of both our employees, the children in our care and the parents who come on our premises. We may not be able to eliminate the risk of employees/parents/children from contracting COVID-19 while carrying out their duties or attending the service, however, we urge everyone to take responsibility and appropriate measures outlined by both state and federal governments to ensure the safety of themselves and others.

Outbreaks can occur in any area and, we all need to practise physical distancing, good hygiene and stay at home when sick to slow the spread of COVID-19

Feeling sick – Stay Home!

Anyone who has potential coronavirus- COVID-19 symptoms must not attend the service under any circumstance. We urge anyone who is displaying symptoms or feeling unwell to get tested at a free COVID-19 testing clinic or see their GP. Self-isolation is required after testing until results are returned.

Symptoms may include:

- fever
- flu-like symptoms such as coughing, sore throat and fatigue
- shortness of breath

We want to limit the risk of transmission as much as possible and thank you for your cooperation and understanding.

Thunderstruck

Short simple activities to get some active minutes in the day.

Find an open area to jog laps in or simply jog in place at a moderate pace. Find the song "Thunderstruck" by AC/DC on YouTube and play it. During the song, you should listen closely for the words "Thunder" or "Thunderstruck". Every time these words are said, perform a burpee (or a version of that your child/ren can perform). This will go on for the entirety of the song!

You can choose any song you like; simply choose the word/phrase in the song you will perform the burpee on and press play.
