More Important News!

The children are collectively progressing well with their current block of French, and I am most impressed with the older children in the class, in assisting the younger children during the question and answer periods of the daily lessons.

Peer group / collaborative learning is a most positive component of a language learner's repertoire, as it assists in the consolidation of what is being taught, and can also enhance one's self-confidence in the advanced learner and in the beginner.

Learning a second language augments the metacognitive and analytical skill level as well as one's self-discipline
